A message was received from the H. R. by Mr. TEVIS, informing the Senate that the House had completed its legislative business and was now ready to adjourn, and had appointed a committee to act with a committee of the Senate to inform the Governor that the General Assembly was now ready to adjourn, and know of him if he had any further communications to make to them.

The SPEAKER appointed Messrs. JOHN-SON, IRVAN, and COBY the committee on the part of the Senate to wait on the Governor.

A message was sent to the House of Representatives that the Senate was ready to adjourn.

The SPEAKER delivered the following valedictory address:

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE: The hour fixed by the joint action of both branches of the Legislature for final adjournment, is now at hand.

Before parting, I trust you will excuse me if I avail myself of this opportunity of again expressing to you my heartfelt thanks for your unwearied kindness and courtesy to me. Whatever of success I have had in my efforts to discharge the duties imposed upon me by the responsible position in which you placed me is attributable more to that kindness and courtesy than to any superior qualifications that I possess for such a place.

After anxious deliberations for weeks, the result of which will, I hope, prove a blessing to us and to our race by bringing back again all the scattered fragments of this once glorious Union in one common bond of interest and affection, we are about to separate, each one to return to his family and people.

In the course of events we may not meet again, and in this, to me, most solemn moment, it is with pain that I now say to all, to each one of you, and to the officers of this Senate who have so faithfully and patiently discharged their duties—farewell. May God's blessings be with you.

I now declare this Senate adjourned sine die.

RICHMOND, Va., April 4.

At 12 o'clock the debate terminated in the Convention, and after an ineffectual effort by Mr. Wise to extend the time for explaining the amendment, the committee of the Whole proceeded to vote on the third resolution, which opposes the formation of geographical or sectional parties in respect to federal politics, and it was adopted.

The fourth resolution was taken up. On motion of Mr. Wise, it was amended by inserting the words "several States" in lieu of "the United States," making it declare that the territories constitute a trust to be administered for the common benefit of the several States. Year 65, nays 66.

Two other verbal amendments were offered by Mr. Wise and agreed to.

Mr. Monroe moved to amend by striking out the word "several," if the equal admission of slave and free labor into any Territory excites unfriendly conflict between the two systems, a fair partition of the Territories ought to be made, and each system protected within the limit assigned by the laws necessary to its proper development. THE LATE LEGISLATURE.

The extra session of the Legislature adjourned sine die on Friday, at 7 o'clock, A. M. The Lexington Observer, in speaking of its action, well remarks that the people of the State have ample cause for gratulation at the manner in which its duties were performed. Called at a most momentous crisis in the history of the nation; with the elements of revolution in full play in several of our sister States, and with many of our own heretofore trusted and honored citizens endeavoring to swerve the people of Kentucky from their allegiance and loyalty to the Union; with the policy of the new Administration not yet developed, and feeling all the indignation which was to be expected from the success of a sectional organization based upon a platform of principles that was inimical to the interest of a large portion of the Republic; with the cry of "our rights" to be destroyed and "our rights" must be maintained;—the majority of both Houses met the issues presented in a bold, manly, patriotic spirit, and put the seal of their disapprobation upon the schemes of those who were bent upon precipitating Kentucky into disunion in a manner that challenges the admiration of every man who loves his country, is proud of her history, and who desires that the Republic shall be preserved in its integrity and power. The people of Kentucky had been for years perpetually annoyed by the small beer politicians of the hour in regard to "Southern Rights" as connected with the question of slavery. It was the stock in trade of all that class of men who, having no claims of their own, founded upon real ability or patriotic public services, upon which to base their appeals for office, have demagogued it upon this question until the popular heart has sickened upon it. North and South, slavery has alike served as a hobby for demagogues to ride into power over true worth and ability; and the disunionists, aware of the sensitiveness of the people in regard to the institution with which their destiny is inseparably connected, and regardless of the consequences that were certain to follow the persistent agitation of the subject, so that their lust for the spoils might be gratified, hoped to be able by this self-same cry to cause the people of Kentucky to desert the glorious Union of our fathers, and unite their fortunes with those States which, without consultation or counsel with those who have as large an interest as they have in the thing, precipitated themselves into revolution. Under such circumstances the Legislature was convened, and measures for the consummation of disunion urged. But the Union men and the conservative Democracy of that body proved too potent for the radicals, and voted down every proposition looking to the end so anxiously sought for by the disunionists. We honor them for it; the people of Kentucky will nobly sustain them; and what is far better, they will hereafter, as now, have the approbation of their own consciences for what they have done. When the history of Kentucky shall hereafter be put in an enduring form for posterity, the record of no legislative body that has preceded this will contribute a brighter portion of that history; and the names of those who stand recorded as having opposed to the last all efforts to plunge Kentucky into revolution will be remembered with gratitude.

Again, we say, all honor to the noble band of Union men and conservative Democrats in the Kentucky Legislature, who have resisted successfully all efforts to drag Kentucky from her high position and plunge her into the slough of disunion.

Death of Judge McLean.

This eminent jurist died at Cincinnati, at the age of seventy-six years, Thursday morning.

Judge McLean was a native of Morris county, New Jersey, having been born on the 11th of March, 1785, consequently he had just turned the seventy-sixth year of his age. When only four years of age, his father removed to Morgantown, Virginia, when he removed to what is now Jessamine county, Kentucky. From thence he removed to Mason county.

In the year 1797, he removed to the Northwestern Territory, now Ohio. He studied law while employed in the office of the clerk of Hamilton county under the instruction of Arthur St. Clair, a son of the General of that name. In 1807, he was married to a daughter of Dr. Edward Ormsby, of South Carolina. He was elected to Congress in 1812, and was again returned in 1815. He was a supporter of Madison's administration and of the last war with England. In 1816 he was unanimously elected to a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court of Ohio. In 1822 he was appointed by President Monroe Commissioner of the General Land Office, but remained there only till 1823, when he was appointed Postmaster General.

On the election of General Jackson, Judge McLean was offered the War and Navy Departments, both of which he declined, but was appointed, 1830, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, which position he accepted.

He was tendered the Anti-Masonic candidacy for President in 1831, but declined, as he afterwards did other Presidential nominations. He was spoken of in 1833, and again in the last Presidential run, by a powerful party of the Republicans. Judge McLean was not less remarkable for his abilities than for his integrity and principle. He was President of the American S.S. Union for the past twenty years.

The Union Democratic Party:

The people of Kentucky are all embraced in two parties—the Union Democratic party, and the Disunion party, sometimes called the Southern Rights party, for effect. The first party is composed of all the Breckinridge party who desire to preserve the Union, and nearly all the members of the Bell and Douglas parties. The second party is composed of that part of the Breckinridge Democracy who are in favor of the overthrow of the Government, and of a few malcontents and disappointed persons of the Bell and Douglas party. We have no means of ascertaining the strength of the Disunion party in Kentucky, but we presume it will not be able to poll over a few thousand votes in the entire State; indeed we have heard it intimated that they will probably not expose their weakness by running a ticket at the May election. Some of their papers, however, have suggested the propriety of making up a ticket, and they may find some persons daring enough to suffer defeat for pure hatred to the Union. Time will show.

The Secession Ticket.

The Secessionists have indicated the following gentlemen to be "walloped" by the Union men the first Saturday in May:

For the State at Large—Wm. O. Butler and James C. Clay.

For the Districts—Henry C. Burnett, Jno. W. Crockett, Geo. Ewing, A. G. Talbot, J. L. Helm, Jno. M. Elliott, Humphrey Marshall, Thos. P. Porter, Emery Whitaker, and Wm. E. Arthur.

They will do as well as any. They are all fidgety, and nervously jealous of their rights. They want Kentucky to go out in "half a minute." They will wake up on Sunday morning, the 5th of May, and find themselves buried under about fifty thousand majorities.

What is a "couge?" We mean one of those articles made by Walter Handy to the gentlemen of Mercer county, who wanted him to run for the Legislature. We expect every day that "many citizens" will call on us to represent Franklin, and if appropriate, we desire to construct for them "couge" of the profoundest style.

The Secessionists have dropped the Democratic name as well as Democratic principles. We are glad of this. They have been sailing under false colors long enough. They bear no more resemblance to the old Democratic party than a rattle-snake bears to a fish.

BLIND TOM.—This most remarkable musical phenomenon gave two successful concerts in this city. To say that his performances are wonderful would but faintly express our idea. He is one of the little "cuses" that we can't quite understand. We can confidently say to our readers that he is no humbug.

In publishing the proceedings of the cane presentation, the remarks of Senator Rousseau were accidentally omitted. They were as follows:

I arise to a privileged question. The members of the Senate, sir, have requested me to hand you a note, addressed to you by the Senate and its officers, and at the same time to present to you this cane. They intended by this, to express the affectionate regard they cherish for you as a man, and the high appreciation they entertain of your ability and impartiality as presiding officer of this body.

The inscription engraven on the cane records an era which cannot fail to be memorable in the history of Kentucky. The "Extra Session" of the Kentucky Legislature of 1861 will not be forgotten. And whether the results it has brought have disappointed or satisfied your hopes, we trust you will be pleased at this offering of your brother Senators to the worth of an honest man. We hope you will remember with peculiar pleasure and supply the full details of the excitement incident to discussion in this body, of subjects intimately connected with the fate of our country, and on which you widely differred with many of them, you have ably and impartially discharged your duty; that your brother Senators believe and appreciate the fact, and are willing to say so. For this honest and manly discharge of your duty, and for your uniform kindness and courtesy to us all, we thank you; and we assure you, that you take with you the good wishes for your welfare in all things, of every member of the Senate and of its officers.

Union Democratic Organization.

At a meeting of the Union members of the Legislature, held in Frankfort, April 3, 1861, the Hon. James Simpson was called to the Chair and John A. Finn appointed Secretary. On motion the following platform and plan of organization were unanimously adopted:

And the nominations for delegates were made by acclamation:

WHEREAS, The continued agitation of the slavey question by the various political parties, as a basis for Congressional legislation, has brought the country to its present unhappy condition, and every interest of humanity, liberty and business demand that the agitation shall be settled by a specific constitutional enactment; and, whereas,

We believe that the slave States that have not adopted secession ordinances are in a condition, as yet, to accept such amendments to the Constitution as will secure the rights of the whole South peacefully and quietly in the Union; and, whereas, The General Assembly has provided for the election of delegates to a Border Slave State Convention, it is deemed not improper to indicate to that Convention what amendments Kentucky desires to have incorporated into the Constitution of the United States; therefore,

Resolved, That the Union Democracy recommend to such delegates as may be elected what are known as the Crittenden amendments, as the basis of such amendments as will be acceptable to Kentucky.

Resolved, That if the Convention agrees upon a plan of adjustment, and such plan is accepted by our brethren of the North, and is made a part of the Constitution of the United States, Kentucky will accept it as a final adjustment of the matters in controversy.

Resolved, That when such constitutional amendments are made, we shall ardently desire, and earnestly hope, that our brethren in the South will withdraw their fellowship from the Union, will speedily return, and that it will be their duty so to do, so that we may, in peace, fraternity, and happy concord, resume our march to greatness and power under one Constitution and the glorious old flag made by the fathers of the Revolution.

Resolved, That for the active organization of the Union Democracy of Kentucky there shall be a State Central Committee of ten members, to be located at Louisville; that there shall be a Central Committee of five members for each Congressional District, and that there shall be a County Committee of five for each county, and a Precinct Committee for each precinct in each county.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the State Central Committee to attend promptly to the perfect organization of the party throughout the State; and to recommend to the District Committees and to the party such steps as to them may seem expedient. They shall fill vacancies in their and the District Committees, and upon the State ticket, and fix the time and place of holding State Conventions.

Resolved, That Wm. H. Davidson, John H. Harney, Wm. F. Bullock, James Speed, Wm. P. Boone, Charles Ripley, Philip Tompert, Hamilton Pope, Nat Wolfe, and L. E. Harris shall be the Central Committee for the State at large, and shall continue in office for one year, or until a State Convention shall elect their successors.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the District Central Committees to meet and appoint a Chairman and Secretary, and keep a record of their proceedings, and report their officers to the State Central Committee. The District Committees shall, if the counties do not elect, have power to appoint County Committees, and so prescribe their duties. The County Committees shall appoint Precinct Committees of three, who shall keep the precincts thoroughly organized. The Precinct Committees shall report their postoffices and organization to the County Committees, they to their respective District Committees, and the latter to the State Central Committee.

Resolved, That the several committees have power to fill vacancies in their respective organizations, except the district committees; and that they are invested with all power necessary to effect a perfect and active organization of the party throughout the State, and secure the triumph of its principles.

Resolved, That the district committees shall be composed of the following persons:

First District—John Q. A. King, L. S. Trimble, R. B. J. Twymon, Lucien Anderson, E. I. Bullock, Second District—Henry D. McElroy, Q. C. Shanks, E. Dudley Walker, Edwin Thomas, A. D. Cosby.

Third District—Henry Grider, John M. Sharp, J. C. Witkins, John A. Finn, George T. Wood.

Fourth District—James H. Williamson, A. H. Seead, G. A. Lackey, John Duvall, Thomas Z. Morrow.

Fifth District—Robert A. Burton, L. A. Spalding, Jas. P. Barbour, Jas. Phillips, John E. Newman.

Sixth District—Wm. Holloway, Wm. L. Neale, Jas. W. Caperton, Theophilus T. Garrard, Samuel Lusk.

Seventh District—Joshua F. Speed, Ed. Crutchfield, Richard T. Jacob, Harry I. Todd, Richard Anderson, Thos. H. Waters, Geo. W. Williams.

Ninth District—James A. Lee, Harrison Taylor, W. H. Wadsworth, L. W. Andrews, Walter C. Chiles.

Tenth District—M. M. Benton, S. C. Perrin, John H. Fennell, Col. James Taylor, George R. Fearens.

Resolved, That we respectfully recommend to the Union Democracy of Kentucky the following gentlemen as suitable persons for Delegates to said convention:

FOR THE STATE AT LARGE:
JOHN J. CRITTENDEN,
JAMES GUTHRIE.

DISTRICT DELEGATES:

1. Rufus K. Williams. 6. Geo. W. Dunlap,
2. Archie Dixon. 7. Chas. S. Morehead.
3. Francis M. Bristow. 8. James F. Robinson.
4. Joshua F. Bell. 9. John B. Huston.
5. Chas. A. Wickliffe. 10. Robert Richardson.

Resolved, That the Union Democracy in every county of the State be requested to put forward the ablest and most influential men for office at the ensuing August election.

JAMES SIMPSON, Chairman.

JOHN A. FINN, Secretary.

WARLIKE RUMORS.

The city is experiencing a good deal of excitement over the rumors of war, which seem to be fully credited in all quarters. There is no disguising the fact that a general apprehension exists that an immediate collision will occur either at Fort Pickens or Fort Sumter.

The movements of the supplemental Gulf squadron, being fitted out at New York and Boston, cause a great deal of alarm in the South, a private dispatches indicate, despite the fact that ample assurances have been forwarded to those points that the Administration do not contemplate re-enforcing any of the Southern ports, or, in the words of the reply made to Commissioner Crawford by a prominent member of the Administration, "no hostilities are contemplated against the South."

SECESSION DEFEATED IN VIRGINIA.

The news from Virginia is glorious. Secession yesterday received a fiery blow.

The Union men are triumphant, and very hopeful that all their opponents' efforts are deadened, so far as they aim to lead to the secession of the State. Salutes have been fired in different parts of the State.

Mr. John M. Todd, who has so faithfully reported the proceedings of the Legislature at Frankfort for several past sessions, deserves especial commendation from us for his unwearied industry. He is one of those whose tact enable them to seize the grain from the chaff of legislative proceedings, and therefore his reports are always reliable and interesting.—Lou. Journal, 6th.
